On trial

Mock jury trials are, in effect⁸⁰, dress rehearsals⁸¹ for the day of reckoning⁸². Witnesses⁸³ practice their entire⁸⁴ testimony⁸⁵ on moderator-led mini-focus groups which respond to⁸⁶ the trial team's case⁸⁷. These cases can be quite lucrative for those involved⁸⁸. They can be compressed⁸⁹ into one eight-hour stint or even pan out⁹⁰ over the course of⁹¹ a week.

Undercover consumer

For those interested in getting out and about⁹³, a spot of⁹⁴ undercover shopping is an option. Never before has a trip to the supermarket been a profitable⁹⁵ exercise. In fact, in return for⁹⁶ your services, you'll receive⁹⁷ cash for your shopping expedition. Undercover consumer reports⁹⁸ are not just confined to⁹⁹ the shops – restaurants and cinemas provide more opportunities and all are paid for (food included) by the organisation that finds the work.

Ideal supplement to a full-time wage¹⁰¹

As with all good things though, there are a few drawbacks¹⁰². Assignments are often irregular¹⁰³ and cannot be relied upon¹⁰⁴ as a stable¹⁰⁵ income¹⁰⁶. To get the most out of¹⁰⁷ this line of work¹⁰⁸, you have to accept the fact that you won't be drawing a pension¹⁰⁹ off¹¹⁰ it. Having said that, the hourly rate¹¹¹ can be quite high, especially for a full day's work¹¹², a weekend or a week-long¹¹³ stint, and if you are looking to supplement¹¹⁴ an income, this might be the way forward¹¹⁵. If all goes well first time round¹¹⁶, there is always the chance that more hours will be thrown your way¹¹⁷.

Of course, scamming¹¹⁸ is a big problem. So to be certain that the company you chose to register with is kosher¹¹⁹, do as much online research as possible.

A few golden moonlighting rules apply¹²⁰:

Never before has a trip to the supermarket been a profitable exercise – you'll receive cash for your shopping expedition.

- Under no circumstances¹²¹ pay for anything
- Never reveal¹²² bank account¹²³ numbers or other such details
- Check the privacy¹²⁴ information on websites before you register (sometimes companies sell on¹²⁵ information)

- Open a new email account to deal with¹²⁶ all correspondence from these types of companies

Once you're satisfied that all is above board¹²⁷, you should start getting requests¹²⁸ for work. There's no doubt-ing that¹²⁹ it will provide valuable¹³⁰ supplementary income to a full-time job and the time you spend participating should not encroach on¹³¹ your main commitments¹³². If you're interested in learning about product research or just in new concepts, this could be right up your street¹³³.
